A DOUGHNUT ROBBERY.

Smaller Youths.

Rutland, Nov. 19 .- That all the mem sers of the light fingered profession in Rutland are not of the grown up class was demonstrated Sunday evening about 6 o'clock when two boys, aged six and eight years, were deliberately robbed of bag of doughnuts which they were a bag of daughnuts which they were taking to their home on Howe street. The two boys were sent by their father to the Breckenridge bakery on Grove street for the daughnuts. When about half way home they were accested by a boy of about 12 years who asked them where a certain street in Rutland was located. On being told by toe little fellows he inquired as to the continuous of the bag one of them carried and then weekled the bag one of them carried and the membral the bag one of them carried and the membral the bag one of them carried and the membral the bag one of them carried and the membral the bag one of them carried and the membral the bag one of them carried and the membral the bag one of them carried and the membral the bag one of them carried and the membral the bag one of them carried and the membral the bag one of them carried and the membral them. Now, 19.—That the defense of Mrs. Annie Breadley, charged with the murder of former Senator Arthur Brown of Utah, is to be insanity and justification was made plainly evident years who asked them where a certain street in Rutland was located. > Mr. Cotterill testified that he asked Mrs. Bradley if she had just before the tragedy asked former Senator Brown to her. She replied that she had, but that Brown's only answer was to immediately put on his overcost and start to go out of the room. Mrs. Bradley told witness that she abhorred acts of this kind, meaning the shooting, but in this case, she believed, it was justified. The witness testified that he did not think Mrs. Bradley was insane. Sergeant Harry Lohman, in charge of the police when Mrs. Bradley was brought there after her arrest, testified that she talked in a rambling manner. She was very anxious to know Senator Brown's condition.

Witness stated Mrs. Bradley told him she did not intend to shoot Brown; that she loved the ground he walked on. She discussed her relations with Brown, said that she was not married to him, but that he was the father of her two cbildren, and she wanted him to make her his wife. He did not then form an opinon as to her sanity.

She was nervous and excited, he said, and realized she had killed Brown. She lidn't seem to him to be insane.

Policeman Emmert, who accompanied Mrs. Bradley from the hotel to the poice station, said that at the hotel she seemed bewildered and had a "stare-look," but afterward at the station appeared rational and collected. ne expressed the opinon that Mrs. Bradley was sane, though the court per-mitted the noting of exceptions to this testimony.

Dr. E. W. Whitney of Salt Lake City testified that he attended Mrs. Bradley when her two children were born, and treated her at other times, but was not permitted to tell who accompanied her to his office. He described a case of blood poisoning for which he had treated her, and said that such a case would affect her whole system, including the brain, and, like all poisoning, must leave some permanent injury to the sys-

Washington, Nov. 19.-Maj. Frank McIntyre, acting chief of the bureau of insular affairs, yesterday received a dis-patch from Secretary of War Taft at Viadicestok asking that arrangements be made for him to sail from Hamburg on Dec. 7 on the steamer President Grant.

Two reasons are assigned unofficially for Taft's haste in returning. One is that he is concerned regarding his candi-It is expected that William A. Gray, assistant district attorney, who is conducting the prosecution, will begin his later, when Hyomei was used and reelections. The more probable reason for Mr. Taft's decision to forego his original intention to go to Berlin, and other capitals is that his visits could not be considered official,

Secretary Talt does not believe that it would be advisable for him to go to England for the purpose of seeing King Edward and Emperor William and at the same time omit going to Paris, as he would be compelled to do. Tacrefore he has decided to eliminate all of these calls with the exception of one upon the Czar, through whose domain he will have travelled for nearly two weeks.
